

Suitable's Accessibility Statement

At Suitable, we are devoted to building a new kind of higher education. One that is more personalized, outcomes-focused, and accessible for all students. Suitable is committed to ensuring its platform is inclusive and accessible for the diverse needs of our users - including staff, faculty, students, and anyone else who may be using Suitable.

Suitable is steadfast in our commitment to meeting WCAG 2.1 Level A/AA and the standards laid out in Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act.

Through regular internal audits and accessibility testing of our mobile and web applications, we continually refine and enhance accessibility features. Additionally, we welcome feedback on the accessibility of our platform.

Please contact us at support@suitable.co with any questions or concerns.

Suitable Design Accessibility Guidelines

In compliance with various state and federal law requirements regarding education accessibility, this guide has been developed for the use of Suitable in line with accessible design best practices.

Specific Suitable-related accessibility help can be found in our Suitable Accessibility section of our support articles.

PLEASE NOTE:

The Suitable Web App (link here) provides the best experience for those using screen readers or other accessibility tools, as it is most consistently tested.
